Fortune Ranks the City of Eastvale Number Seven in the Nation and Number One in California

EASTVALE, CALIF. – We are thrilled to announce that Fortune recently ranked the City of Eastvale the seventh best place to live in the nation and the number one best place to live in California!

Fortune evaluated nearly 2,000 cities, town, suburbs, exurbs, villages, and townships that had between 25,000 and 750,000 residents across all 50 states in the U.S. This range provided a broad universe of places that offered high-quality amenities in communities with a hometown feel. To analyze each place, Fortune collected more than 215,000 data points across five broad categories: education, aging resources, general wellness, financial health, and livability. After analyzing nearly 2,000 cities, Fortune deemed Eastvale the seventh best place to live in the nation and is the only California city to make the list.

“We are beyond excited for this ranking,” said Mayor Todd Rigby. “Eastvale prides itself on being a great place to raise a family with top notch schools, diverse shopping and dining choices, an abundance of diverse community events, and a high emphasis on public safety. This ranking speaks to our community’s commitment to growth and innovation, and we are proud that Fortune recognizes our efforts.”
