Norco, CA

Miller was elected to the California State Assembly in 2008 and currently serves as the Vice Chair of the Committee on Environmental Safety and Toxic Materials. His legislation has included bills to widen the 91 Freeway and create tens of thousands of regional jobs, fire safety and promoting transparency in government. In Riverside County, the Assemblyman represents the cities of Corona, Eastvale, Norco and Jurupa Valley.

“I encourage each of my constituents to attend and make their voice heard,” said Assemblyman Miller. “We all have a part in California’s recovery, and this is a wonderful opportunity for constituents to be educated on what’s going on in Sacramento and within their own cities.”

RSVP’s are encouraged, but not required for the event. To RSVP or for more information, please contact Assemblyman Miller’s district office at (951) 737-1671.
